

Fountain of Life

Words and Music by Dan Hendrican

Verse 1:

E B                    A            B E            B            A            E
God, how you've changed my life - the old is gone, the new has come
E            B            A            B E            B            A            E            B A B
Your grace is a daily supply - nothing in this world can satisfy
          A                    E B A B                    A                    E B A B
I will follow you, Jesus; take up my cross everyday
                                  A                    E B A B                    A                                    B A
The sway of this world won't lead me, but by the wind of your spirit I'll soar

Chorus:

E    B    A    B                    E            B            A    B
I found living water flowing from the fountain of life
          E    B                    A    E                    B    A    B
He relieved me from my thirsty soul and I'm alive, yes alive
          E    B    A    B                    E            B            A    B
I found living water flowing from the fountain of life
          E    B                    A            E            B    A    B (E - B - A - B x2)
He released me from my burden of sin - I'm free, yes free

Verse 2:

E B                    A            B E            B            A            E
Lord, how you live in me - you took my brokenness and made me whole
E            B            A            B E            B            A            E            B A B
I've been raised in resurrection life. Your victory - you made it mine
          A                    E B A B                    A                    E B A B
I will follow you, Jesus; take up my cross everyday
                                  A                    E B A B                    A                                    B A
The sway of this world won't lead me, but by the wind of your spirit I'll soar

Bridge:

F#m                    D                    A                    E
Lord you fill me up with your loving zeal, an endless flame burning with costly oil
F#m                    D                    A                    E
In deep darkness, let the people see this hope glowing in me
F#m                    D                    A                    B                    A
As they drink of the water of life - don't you know they will never thirst again
